

The after-school landing pad

Make a little room between school and home.

Choose a loose order. Leave space for how the day actually feels.

First, the essentials

A little time to land

Something we need to do

Something we would like to do

Think of this as a rhythm, rather than a timetable you have to keep.