

Our little family catch-up

Everyone gets a little space to be heard.

Take turns if you want to. Listening counts, and passing is always fine.

Something good this week

Something that felt tricky

Something I would like next week

One small thing we could try together

A five-minute chat can be enough. You can draw answers or talk while doing something else.